SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE

Sonoma, Sonoma County, Cal., April 4, 1908

H. H. GRANICE, Editor.

A Resume of Sonoma County Activities.

SONOMA COUNTY is very much alive at the present time. Every section and community seems to be stirred by important events and issues.

In Santa Rosa we have seen wonderful improvements and the evidence of a splendid spirit of public pride and optimism. With all the individual energies and the demands of private business interests the people have joined together to make the Rose Carnival this year a bigger event than ever. Their carnival spirit is remarkable in the face of all they have been through. The quake has fostered a finer community pride and they have time in the midst of all their season's work of upbuilding for frolic and celebration. They do not propose that all work will make Santa Rosans dull boys, so play they will have, and it is going to be in the form of the beautiful rose festival, which in the past has been the means of advertising the city so effectively. The citizens have also begun to prepare for a Fourth of July celebration and are interesting themselves in plans for participating in the reception to the Fleet, and this means that the people of Santa Rosa are not tight with money. It takes coin to do what they have done and are doing. They realize that communities that get results must finance their plans in good style, for "tight" communities never get anywhere or anything.

Petaluma has always been a good business town full of activities. She has a good Board of Trade and makes liberal inducements to factories and manufacturing concerns. Before the era of the Woman's Improvement Club she was so engrossed with business that the idea of the city beautiful never occurred to her. Now our sister city has beautiful parks and avenues and just at the present time there is an active municipal clean-up going on in which the health authorities, led by Dr. Hardin, are suppressing all kinds of nuisances and condemning many unsanitary eyesores. Petaluma is thoroughly up-to-date in her work in this direction and investigation has shown that attention to sanitation has long been necessary.

Healdsburg has gone into the liquor fight with both feet and the factional war is red hot. The grape and hop growers have taken up the controversy in that locality and are threshing it out for all they are worth. The argument of the hop growers that the hop industry involves millions of dollars and benefits the great masses while it injures but a minute percentage has won many converts to the anti-prohibition forces.

Cloverdale has recently distributed $2,000 in dividends to the stockholders of the Citrus Fair Association which has made this lovely festival a regular institution after sixteen years' expense and energy. Cloverdale has enterprise and "stick-to-it-ness" well developed.

Sebastopol is forging steadily ahead and is intent on developing her many resources. She has had her insurance rates much reduced by the acquiring of fine fire-fighting facilities and is ever ready to bid for new business enterprises and to subscribe to public projects of all kinds.

Sonoma is not lagging behind. When we bonded the city for municipal improvements we created a new era. The New City Hall is a monument to our progressiveness. The fine High School building, which will be dedicated to-day with appropriate ceremonies, and our many new homes tell their own story. We are also advocating a fine sanitary system and other public improvements. We have an excellent improvement club of women and our resorts and mineral waters are making Sonoma better known every season. Although our Board of Trade is defunct 5,000 booklets were distributed last year telling of Sonoma Valley's beauties and attractions and on the whole Sonoma is manifesting a broader and more progressive spirit than ever before.

A New Type.

The fellow who comes to our town and looks proud,
Who boasts with importance and talks rather loud;
Who struts like a Morgan, this vain 'Frisco man
Has wondrous possession, a new garbage can.
No really there in the city is his,
Perhaps he is in no kind of biz;
He may sport no kind of diamonds, be no fighting "fau"
But a high prerogative is his garbage can.
He's entitled to praise, a citizen splendid.
For unto Doc Blue his sympathies bended.
No rats will be fed the plague to help breed.
Understand him right here, if he don't treat to beer
Forgive this great man if you can for the can.

AND ANOTHER.

What's tickling me most are the thoughts of that day
When woman, fair woman, will have her own way,
Yes, even her wish to be on the force—
To be a policeman a-foot and a horse.
In New York they advocate officers fair,
The uniform blue they are dying to wear.
Already she holds the club over our heads
It won't seem so strange, this much wanted change,
And fellows, just think, won't she look sweet,
This lady-like cop a-sleep on the beat.

That hacking cough continues
Because your system is exhausted and your powers of resistance weakened.
Take Scott's Emulsion.

It builds up and strengthens your entire system.
It contains Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites so prepared that it is easy to take and easy to digest.

CITY DADS IN SESSION ON ALL FOOLS DAY.

Meet in Regular Monthly Session on a Date that Ought to Suggest Wise Legislation

The calendar this year compelled the City Dads to hold their regular monthly meeting on All Fools Day for the first time since the town was reincorporated thirty years ago. The date is a suggestive one and a gentle reminder, as it were, to the city's rulers to pass wise laws in the future to the end that peace and prosperity may smile upon their subjects.

A full Board was present with G. H. Hotz, the presiding officer, in the chair.

Clerk Small read the minutes of the previous meeting which were approved.

The following bills were then allowed and ordered paid:

Human Remains Unearthed

Workmen employed in excavating soil to be used for grading the low places in the Plaza uncovered several human skeletons at a depth of two or three feet below the surface, one day this week. The find was made in the northern part of town on a piece of land belonging to the city within a short distance from the road leading to the cemetery. The skeletons are supposed to be those of Indians who roamed this valley by the thousands a hundred years ago, and who undoubtedly buried their dead in exceedingly shallow graves as every now and then the bones of the departed red men are unearthed in this place and vicinity but a few feet below the surface.

HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING TO BE DEDICATED.

Exercises Will Take Place This Afternoon at Three O'Clock.

Sonoma's new $12,000 high school building will be dedicated this afternoon with appropriate exercises, which will commence at three o'clock.

There will be an interesting literary and musical program which will be followed by an inspection of the building, as the Trustees desire to show the taxpayers how the special high school tax money was spent.

Robt. A. Poppe, President of the high school Board of Trustees, will preside and addresses will be delivered by Rev. E. B. Payne of Glen Ellen, Superintendent of Schools Montgomery and Glenn E. Murdock of Santa Rosa, the two latter being ex-principals of the school.

The eight high school trustees will be present and will be pleased to receive suggestions as to improving the grounds surrounding the building and other matters pertaining to the school. Everybody will be made welcome and a large attendance is desired.

Norris & Rowe's Circus.

One of the most attractive features with the Greater Norris and Rowe circus, museum, menagerie, hippodrome and congress of nations, which will exhibit in Santa Rosa on Thursday, afternoon and night, April 16th, is the really remarkable display of equine intelligence exhibited. The grand entrance is composed of forty-four lady and gentleman riders, gaily costumed, mounting and dismounting while going at top speed on thoroughbred racing stock. The accomplished horsemen and women with this big circus this season, include such well-known artists as George Holland, Frank Miller, Mickey Feeley, Austin King, John Deere, William Gilson, principal somersault and bareback riders; beautiful Rose Dockrill, Mile Costello, Mile. Fini, Lucile King, Floy Crowell, Helen Martin and Dottie Miller. Norris and Rowe have more riders than any other circus in America. During the run of the big circus in San Francisco last spring of sixty consecutive performances 279,873 persons paid admission to the show. The press of the city devoted columns of space to the riders and other big acts with the circus. By arrangement the Norris and Rowe circus will be the only big show to visit this section of the country this year.

Mrs. Glenn E. Murdock, wife of County Treasurer Murdock, has been visiting Oakland relatives the past week.

CRACKSMEN FORCE SAFE WITH DYNAMITE

Northwestern Pacific Railway Depot at Glen Ellen Burglarized.

The depot of the Northwestern Pacific railroad company at Glen Ellen was entered by bold burglars at an early hour last Saturday morning and $90 in coin and a quantity of railroad tickets were secured by the cracksmen.

The money and tickets were in the company's safe, which was forced open with dynamite and badly demolished.

When station agent Bell opened the office at 5 o'clock on the morning of the robbery private papers that had been placed in the safe were scattered all over the room and evidence of the force of exploding dynamite was to be seen on every hand. The room presented the appearance of having been hit by a cyclone.

The burglars were evidently amateurs at safe-cracking. They left no clew and made good their escape before Sheriff Smith was summoned to Glen Ellen.

BOGGS CARRIGER PASSES AWAY.

He Was the Son of Pioneer Settlers of Sonoma.

Boggs Carriger, eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Carriger, pioneer settlers in this valley, died in Red Bluff, Tehama county, last Wednesday.

The deceased was born on the Nick Carriger ranch near this place fifty-eight years ago and leaves many relatives in various parts of the State, quite a number of whom reside in this valley. The remains of deceased have been shipped here for interment in the Carriger plot in Mountain Cemetery. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Another New Building.

Ground has been broken on the south side of Napa street near the City Hotel for a building which will be erected for Messrs. Theo. Kiser and Paul Robin on the lot recently purchased by them from P. Loustalet. The building when completed will be used as a bath house and barber shop. A billiard parlor and cigar store will also be opened in the building by Mr. Kiser.

DOES NO HARM BUT MUCH GOOD.

Recipe is Easily Prepared at Small Cost and Many Swear By It.

Mix the following by shaking well in a bottle, and take in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. A local druggist is the authority that these simple, harmless ingredients can be obtained at nominal cost from our home druggists.

The mixture is said to cleanse and strengthen the clogged and inactive kidneys, overcoming backache, bladder weakness and urinary trouble of all kinds, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease.

Those who have tried this say it positively overcomes pain in the back, clears the urine of sediment and regulates urination, especially at night, curing even the worst forms of bladder weakness.

Every man or woman here who feels that the kidneys are not strong or acting in a healthy manner should mix this prescription at home and give it a trial, as it is said to do wonders for many persons.

The San Antonio (Pa.) Times was first to print this remarkable prescription in October of 1906, since when all the leading newspapers of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and other cities have made many announcements of it to their readers.

Druidic Banquet.

The members of Sonoma Grove, No. 75, U. A. O. D., gave a banquet at the Sonoma House on Friday evening of last week. The guests of honor were Noble Grand Arch Bertram, Grand Marshal D. Giovannini, Grand Guardian F. Coburn, Grand Trustee McManus, Instructor Conrad and the ladies of the Druidic Circle.

About fifty members of the order were present and sat down to the banquet board, and feasting, speech-making and good cheer were the order of the evening until after midnight.

Angelo Beretta, Secretary of the local Grove, was the toastmaster. The occasion was a fraternal visit to the local Grove by the Grand officers of the order.

SONOMA PEOPLE TO BE ENTERTAINED.

Ladies of Catholic Church to Give Entertainment and Dance.

The ladies of St. Francis' Church will give an entertainment and dance in Union Hall on Wednesday evening, April 22d.

It is the intention of the ladies to make this entertainment one of the best that has ever been given here. With this object in view talent from the metropolis has been secured and will appear here on this occasion.

Among these artists are Jas. M. Ward, the famous Irish comedian, and Miss Gertrude Morris, who will appear in their laughable playlet, "Our Irish Molly."

Billy Hines, the famous entertainer, will also appear and Jas. O'Connor, the well-known Irish terpsichorean artist, will face a Sonoma audience for the first time and show what a pair of talented legs can do.

Rev. J. B. McNally of Oakland, the silver-tongued orator of the West, will deliver an address that alone will be worth the price of admission.

In addition to this and other talent from abroad a number of popular local artists will take part.

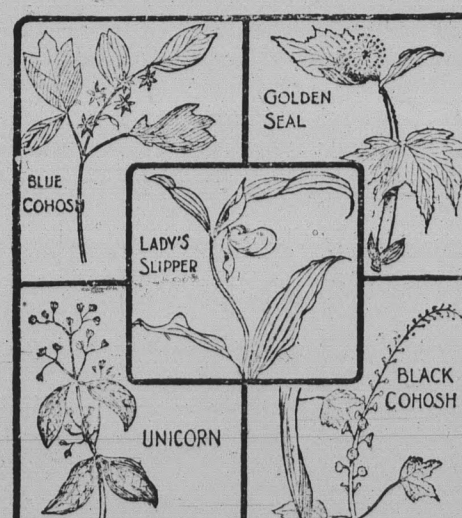

The entertainment will be followed by a social hop, for which excellent music will be furnished.

Rev. Father O'Brien, the pastor of St. Francis' Church, is also taking a lively interest in the forthcoming entertainment and will prove a valuable auxiliary to the ladies of his church in their efforts to make the affair the event of the social season following Lent.

WATCH THE LIPS.

Their Sensitive Muscles Make Them Great Tell-tales.

"It's a queer thing," remarked the professor, "how people can control their eyes and not their mouths."

The inventor, with whom he happened to be talking made the comment that the professor probably meant tongues when speaking of mouths.

"No, I didn't mean tongues. I meant mouths," the professor rejoined. "I mean, if you want to be scientifically accurate, the action of the lip muscles. There's nearly always, in a moment of excitement, of exaltation, depression or emergency, a telltale movement on their part which can't be guarded against. Why can't it be guarded against? Because it is so largely unconscious. Most of us from our youth up have been trained to use our eyes and to use them in such a way as to conceal our emotions. It's different with the mouth. Perhaps we haven't advanced far enough to do two such important things at the same time. Anyway the fact remains that we don't do it."

"If, for example, I have reason to believe that a man is not telling me the truth I don't give my attention to his eyes. He may look at me as fearlessly as he wants. What I watch for is something significant in the region of his face below the nose. If there is no change in the expression of his lips I am disposed after all to believe him. But if there is the least trembling or twitching, the least exhibition, let us call it, of nervousness—well, then, I have my doubts."

"I suppose," observed the inventor, "that while that fact does not explain the wearing of the mustache it shows that the mustache has uses."

"It does," returned the professor, "but you must remember that the mustache, as a rule, doesn't obscure the lower lip. And the lower lip, if you'll take the trouble to notice, is if anything more revealing than the upper one. It is usually that lip which gives the expression to the mouth. The upper lip follows suit, as it were."

"Well, well," said the inventor, finishing his mustache.—New York Press.

A KING'S UNDRRESSING.

The Ceremony Was a Wonderful One In Louis XVI's Time.

In "Memoirs of the Comtesse de Boles" (1781-1814), edited from the original manuscript by Charles Nodding, is found the following realistic description of the "coucher" of Louis XVI.

"The king's coat, waistcoat and shirt were taken off. He stood there naked to the waist, scratching and rubbing himself as if he had been alone, in the presence of the whole court and often many strangers of distinction. The first valet handed the nightgown to the most highly qualified person, to one of the princes of the blood if any were present. This was a right and not a favor. When the person was one with whom he was on familiar terms the king would often play tricks while putting it on, stepping on one side to make the holder run after him, accompanying these charming jokes with loud guffaws, which greatly vexed those who were sincerely attached to him. When his shirt was on he put on his dressing gown, while three valets unfastened his waist belt and knee breeches, which fell to his ankles, and in that garb, scarcely able to walk with these ridiculous fetters, he would shuffle round the circle of those in waiting. When the king had had enough of it, he shuffled backward to an armchair which was pushed into the middle of the room and dropped into it, lifting up his legs. Two pages on their knees immediately seized his legs, pulled off the king's shoes and let them drop with a crash, which was a point of etiquette. As soon as he heard the noise the usher opened the door, saying, 'Gentlemen, please pass out.' Those present went away, and the ceremony was finished. However, the person who was holding the candlestick was allowed to stay if he had anything special to say to the king, and hence the value that was attached to this strange favor."

Unlucky Suggestion.

An old vicar had a groom who had been detected stealing his master's oats. The vicar had not decided what course to take, and meantime the groom had gone to the curate to ask him to plead for him, and the sympathetic young fellow hastened to the rectory to appeal to the vicar. The old vicar heard his curate out, but looked elderly, so as a last resource the curate quoted Scripture as a plea for leniency and said we were taught when a man took our coat to let him take the cloak as well.

"That's true," said the vicar dryly, "and as the fellow has taken my oats I am going to give him the sack."—London Answers.

Bulls In the Graveyard.

The graveyard was full, and a brand new cemetery was laid out. Sandy McTavish, looking over it with Andrew Bruce, protested that it was "too continental" in style. "I'd rather see than be buried in a spot," he declared.

Andrew was less difficult to please. "Well, it's the verri reverse of me," he said, "for I'll be buried anywhere else if I'm spared."—Glasgow Times.

A FAREWELL CHAT.

Interview Between the Boss and the Man He Fired.

Neither of the partners had arrived, and the clerks that morning were indulging in their usual bout of gossip. "Did I tell you, chaps, that I was leaving?" drawled the languid swell of the staff, whose incompetence was as palpable as the splendor of his attire.

"Heard you'd got the sack," replied the spectacled cashier gruffly.

"I answered an advertisement yesterday for what looks like a first class job," resumed the overdressed one, ignoring the remark. "I've pitched rather a strong yarn, but you've got to do that if you want to keep up with the times."

Just then the senior partner entered, and all wrote frantically. Within five minutes the "old man," who had been a long letter, called the last speaker into his room, and the following dialogue became plainly audible to those outside:

"Have you been in our service seven years?"

"No, sir; only fifteen months."

"And is your salary $4 10s. a week?"

"Eh, no, sir; 20 shillings."

"And are you in entire charge of the counting house?"

No reply.

"And are you leaving us because of a difference with the firm regarding the management of our colonial branches?"

Dead silence and a short pause. Then the old man:

"You should be more careful in your statements, sir. This is a small world."

The "overdressed one" answered was for the situation you are leaving on Saturday. That will do.—London TB Bits.

Neglected Colds Threaten Life

[From the Chicago Tribune.]

"Don't trifle with a cold," is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in the case of a child. Proper food, good ventilation, and dry, warm clothing are the proper safeguards against colds. If they are maintained through the changeable weather of autumn, winter and spring the chances of a surprise from ordinary colds will be slight. But the ordinary light cold will become severe if neglected, and a well established ripe cold is to the germs of diphtheria what honey is to the bee. The greatest menace to child life at this season of the year is the neglected cold. Whether it is a child or an adult, the cold slight or severe, the very best treatment that can be adopted is to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is safe and sure. The great popularity and immense sale of this preparation has been attained by its remarkable cures of this ailment. A cold never rests in pneumonia when it is given.

For sale by L. S. Simmons.

Do Not Crowd the Season

The first warm days of spring bring with them a desire to get out and enjoy the exhilarating air and sunshine. Children that have been housed all winter, rebrought out and you wonder where they all come from. Heavy winter clothing is thrown aside and many shed their flannels. Then a cold wave comes, and people say that grip is epidemic. Colds at this season are even more dangerous than in mid-winter, as there is much more danger of pneumonia. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, however, and you will have nothing to fear. It always cures, and we have never known a cold to result in pneumonia when it is used. It is pleasant and safe to take. The children like it.

Child's Life Saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

Mrs. John Englehardt of Gera, Mich. tells of the anxious moments spent over a little two-year-old daughter who had a bad cold resulting in croup. She writes, "I am satisfied that if it had not been for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy she would have choked to death. I gave this medicine every ten minutes and she began to throw up the phlegm. I can recommend it to the highest terms as I have another child that was cured in the same way." Sold by L. S. Simmons.

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. But with that way, two treatments, must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, both are important, both essential. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the local. Dr. Shoop's Restorative, the Constitutional.

The former—Dr. Shoop's Night Cure—is a topical mucous membrane suppository remedy, while Dr. Shoop's Restorative is wholly an internal treatment. The Restorative reaches throughout the entire system seeking the repair of all nerve, all tissue, and all blood ailments.

The "Night Cure," as its name implies, does its work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the Restorative, easing nervous excitement, gives renewed vigor and ambition, builds up wasted tissues, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—as a general tonic to the system. For positive local help, use as well
